AIIMS New Delhi, IIT Delhi, and UCL Forge Trilateral Partnership to Revolutionize MedTech Innovation

AIIMS New Delhi, IIT Delhi, and University College London (UCL) have signed an MoU to collaborate in the area of healthcare research and innovation. This is a unique partnership which aims to tackle major health challenges by leveraging the complementary strengths of the three institutions. Together, the universities aim to advance the field of medical technology in cutting-edge areas such as detection, diagnostics and imaging; devices and implants; assistive technologies; digital health; artificial intelligence, machine learning and quantum; surgical and treatment interventions and sensing technologies.

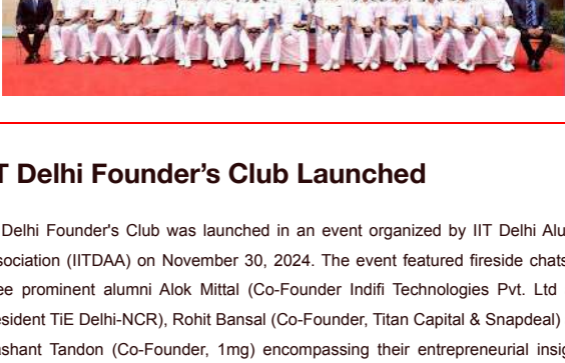

IIT Delhi and UCL are currently collaborating as a part of Attvaran Accelerator program in which 20 Assistive Technology (AT) startups are participating. Funded by the UK Foreign Commonwealth Development Office as part of the AT2030 programme led by the Global Disability Innovation Hub, the Attvaran Accelerator is building innovation ecosystems to take ideas into market-ready solutions, by supporting emerging entrepreneurs, forging new interactions, innovation, research and business opportunities.

Post Graduate Diploma in Naval Construction

IIT Delhi offers a 18 months Post Graduate Diploma in Naval Construction course at the Post Graduate level in which officers from navy are deputed every year for this program. This is a unique program in the country and graduates of this program have contributed immensely in making India self-reliant in naval technology and warfare needs of navy. Thirty-four officers of the Indian Navy and one officer from the Indian Coast Guard recently completed their PGDIIT degree from the institute.

IIT Delhi Founder's Club Launched

IIT Delhi Founder's Club was launched in an event organized by IIT Delhi Alumni Association (IITDAA) on November 30, 2024. The event featured fireside chats by three prominent alumni Alok Mittal (Co-Founder Indifi Technologies Pvt. Ltd and President TIE Delhi-NCR), Rohit Bansal (Co-Founder, Titan Capital & Snapdeal) and Prashant Tandon (Co-Founder, 1mg) encompassing their entrepreneurial insights and journeys. A few budding startups also made their pitches on this occasion.
